DECEMBER PROGRAM

Richard King, judge in Orange County Superior Court, was appointed by Governor Gray Davis in December, 2000. His appointment followed fifteen years as a prosecutor in O.C. Judge King has been a professor of law since 1996. He will be speaking to us at the luncheon and has agreed to swear in our new and returning board members.

As is our custom now in December, we will be welcomed with a piano recital by Holly Nolan. Following lunch, the Southern California Children's Chorus will entertain us with holiday favorites.

GRAND JURY RECRUITMENT

It's that time of year again. Recruitment for the 2005/06 prospective Grand Jury members is in full swing.

It is hoped that all past jury members take the time to approach friends and/or associates who meet the requirements and explain to them the educational rewards and insight you obtain into county government and it's allied agencies.

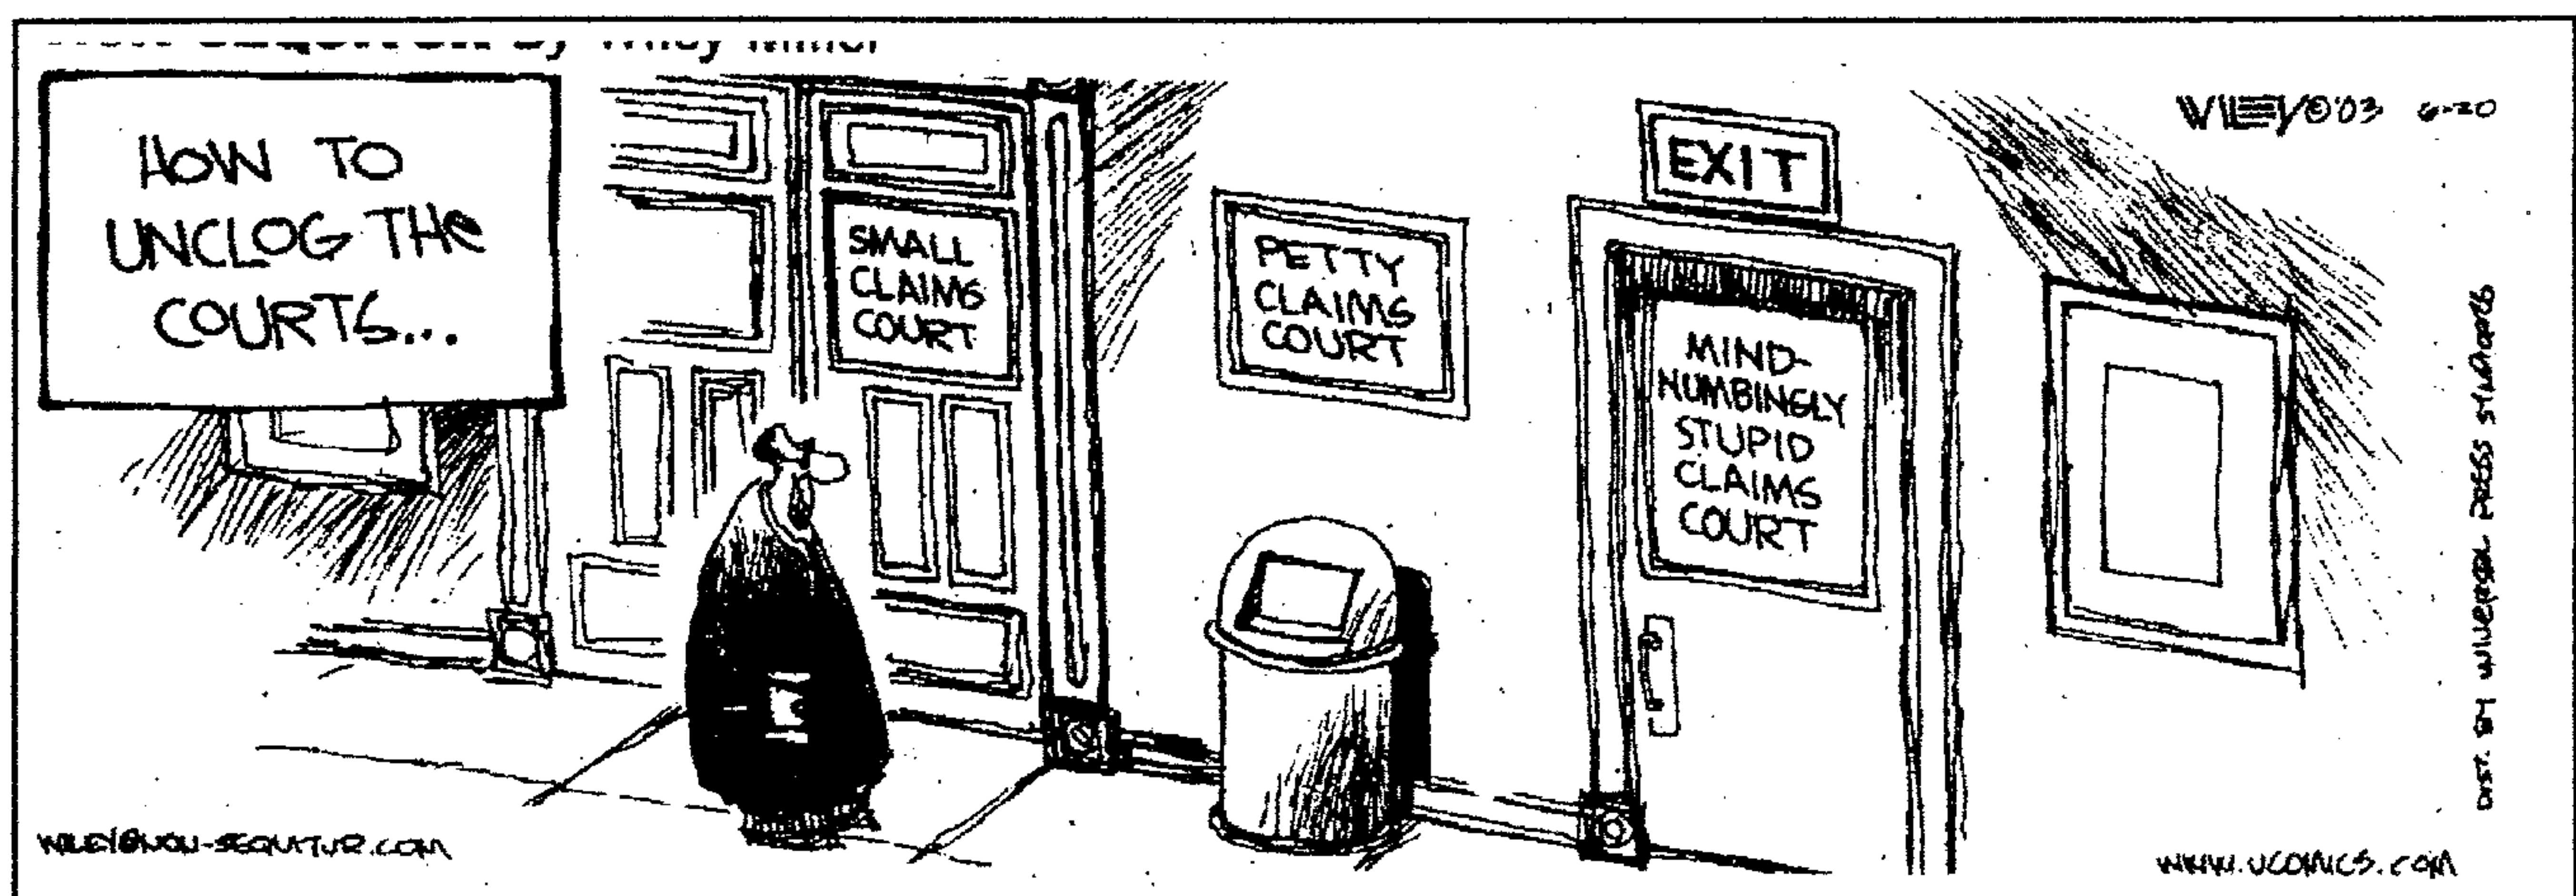

Look back on your own service and remember the knowledge you gained. One past juror summed up his service by saying, "It's like getting a masters degree in civics." Deadline for applications is January 14, 2005. Call (714) 834-6747 for an application form.

Providing information to members at quarterly luncheons requires approval. Contact a Board member with your request to distribute hand-out material or to speak.

THANK YOU

O.C. Credit Union generously allows the GJAOC to hold monthly board meetings in a training room at their Ross Street branch.

They have provided this and other accomodations for many years free of charge. We want to take this opportunity to say "Thank You."

OC HEALTH AGENCY FLU SHOT PROGRAM

A limited number of flu shots will be given free by the Health Agency in early November. A schedule is published on the web at www.oc.ca.gov.

The vaccine will only be given to the following groups of high-risk Orange County individuals:

- Adults 65 years and older
- People from 18 to 64 years of age with chronic medical conditions (Required regular medical care or stayed in the hospital in the last year for one of the following: heart disease; diabetes; lung disease, including asthma; kidney disease; sickle cell disease and related blood diseases and immune system weak from diseases, like cancer, or medications)
- Pregnant women
- Residents of nursing homes and long-term care facilities
- Health care workers who provide direct patient care
- Out-of-home caregivers and household contacts of children less than 6 months old

Please note that many doctors may have received additional flu vaccine for children. Parents should check with their children's doctor for high-risk children or call the Health Care Agency's Health Referral Line at (800) 564-8448. High risk children as defined by the CDC include those from 6 to 23 months old; children who are household contacts with babies less than 6 months old; children 2 – 18 years of age with chronic medical conditions or who are on long-term aspirin therapy.

This year, it will be very important to stay healthy during the flu season. Some helpful tips include wash your hands frequently with soap and warm water, eat healthy foods, exercise, make sure you drink enough water and get plenty of rest. If you begin to feel sick:

- Stay home from work or school and get plenty of rest.
- Cover your mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze. Properly dispose of used tissues and wash your hands afterwards.
- Drink lots of liquids.
- Avoid the use of alcohol and tobacco.
- Take over-the-counter pain relievers to help feel better.

The California Attorney General has issued a warning against flu vaccine price gouging.
